BOLIVIAN CONGRESS
CONVENED IN LA PAZMatter of Boundary Dispute Important Question to Be Taken up at Session.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

La Paz, Aug. 6.—The Bolivian Congress convened today and will at once take up the matter of the boundary dispute between Peru and Bolivia. The legislative body will decide whether or not Bolivia shall accept Argentina's award in favor of Peru. Leading members of congress have been outspoken in their opposition to the award and many declare that it will be rejected unanimously. In which event war between the two republics would seem inevitable. During the past few days the diplomatic representatives of the United States and other nations have been exerting their friendly influence to prevent a rupture, with the result that the situation has now taken on a better aspect.

Destroyed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Racine, Aug. 6.—On the Northwest division of the C. M. & St. P. R. R. one of the worst wrecks of the year occurred at Lyons, just west of Burlington this morning. It was caused by a broken journal in one of the freight cars. Fifteen cars loaded with cattle, grain and merchandise were thrown into a ditch and some of them went into a shallow river. The loss is estimated at $18,000. No one was hurt.

NATIONAL REGATTA
ON DETROIT RIVERPreliminary Events of Races of Can-men's Association This Afternoon—Came Meet.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 6.—The graceful shells of many canmen drifted hither and thither on the rippling waters of the Detroit river this morning and were watched by large crowds of interested spectators who lined the shore. The canmen were taking their final practice spins in preparation for the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Canmen, several elimination events of which were on the program for this afternoon. Tomorrow will come the championship event, in which crack canmen from many points in the United States and Canada will contest for honors.

The full program of events, all to be rowed over the mile and a quarter straightaway stretch of water at Belle Island, on the Detroit river, is as follows: Quarter-mile dash, senior; single scull shells, intermediate; association senior single sculls; champion scull shells, intermediate; double scull shells, senior; octadecahedron sculls, senior; four-oared shells, intermediate; four-oared shells, senior; four-oared shells, intermediate; eight-oared shells, intermediate; eight-oared shells, senior.

The entry list this year is the most representative in the history of the national regatta. Philadelphia has sent an unusually large delegation of canmen, headed by the national champion senior four-oared shell crew of the Yonkers Boat club. Boston, Hartford, New York, Buffalo, Springfield and other cities are well represented and from Canada have come many of the canmen who contested in the recent regatta at St. Catharines, including those of Halifax, Winnipeg, Toronto and Walkerville.

Annual Meet of Cannoteists
Thousand Islands, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The annual summer camp of the western division of the American Canoe association was opened today at Sugar Island, in the St. Lawrence. The camp will continue two weeks. During this time there will be thirty races, which will bring together the star canoe hands of the eastern, western, northern, Atlantic and central divisions of the American Canoe association, making the camp an international affair.

IS WROTH AT THE CRITICS

Says C. O. P. Is Disrupted by the Outmocrats Are All United.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—In reply to what he terms "misrepresentation of the democrats in the papers," Champ Clark, leader of the minority in the house, today gave out the following statement regarding the course of the democratic members of the house in connection with the consideration of the Payne tariff bill.

He says the democrats came out of the tariff fight more thoroughly united on that question than they have been in a generation, while the republicans came out of it worse shattered than ever before.

"Some papers," he adds, "either through carelessness or malice, have gone so far as to say that had the democrats not been absent in large numbers and unprepared we would have defeated the conference report on the tariff bill. There is not a syllable of car men will gain $3,000 a day raise in wages.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—By their vote yesterday the Chicago street car employees have decided to declare a general strike unless some intercession from outside is brought to bear on the men and the trouble is averted. The vote showed that 193 out of 8,000 are opposed to a strike. The result will be given tomorrow.

If the strike comes, factories, stores, amusement parks and theaters will have to close or provide sleeping and eating quarters for their employees, as all surface transportation will be tied up. Every indication points to a strike, though President M. C. Buckley of the South Side states that every law of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees will be observed.

This would mean that after a strike vote is carried and President Mifflin is notified, International President W. D. Mahon will be asked to come to Chicago and intercede. This law provides that he shall offer arbitration if no agreement can be made. Many speeches are every day occurrences, and the Chicago police, who are on their vacations, have been notified to return and report at once for duty as Chief Schnottner does not intend to be caught napping. The railroad management have, according to the statement of President Buckley, refused to pay higher wages, but will continue the present scale, and offer, if this is not satisfactory, to arbitrate the entire wage question. There is a decided feeling against arbitration amongst the car men.

HONOR MEMORY OF
ALFRED TENNYSONCentennial of Birth of Great English
Poet Universally Celebrated.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Aug. 6.—The universal regard in which the memory of Alfred Tennyson is held was given expression throughout the United Kingdom today by exercises commemorating the 100th anniversary of the poet's birth. At Farringford, Tennyson's Isle of Wight home, where he spent so many of the most important years of his literary life, and at Aldworth where his death occurred, the principal public observances were held, but there was scarcely a literary society throughout the kingdom that did not devote some time to the memory of the man whose writings touched the common heart of humanity. During the day both Farringford and Aldworth were thrown open to the public. Born in 1809 and dying in 1892, Tennyson's life covered the entire spiritual and intellectual movement of the nineteenth century. The first volume which bore his name appeared in 1830; the last volume came from the press not long after his death. He was a thorough Englishman in every sense of the word, and it is not difficult to understand why he held the central place in the group of Victorian poets and spoke for and to a larger number of Englishmen than any of his contemporaries.

London, Aug. 6.—The universal regard in which the memory of Alfred Tennyson is held was given expression throughout the United Kingdom today by exercises commemorating the 100th anniversary of the poet's birth. At Farringford, Tennyson's Isle of Wight home, where he spent so many of the most important years of his literary life, and at Aldworth where his death occurred, the principal public observances were held, but there was scarcely a literary society throughout the kingdom that did not devote some time to the memory of the man whose writings touched the common heart of humanity. The first volume which bore his name appeared in 1830; the last volume came from the press not long after his death. He was a thorough Englishman in every sense of the word, and it is not difficult to understand why he held the central place in the group of Victorian poets and spoke for and to a larger number of Englishmen than any of his contemporaries.

Tennyson was educated at Louth Grammar School and Cambridge University. At the latter his fellow-student was Arthur Henry Hallam, whose untimely death in 1833 he commemorated in the "In Memoriam," which was not published until 1850. At that time he was already famous as the author of "Locksley Hall," "Dryden," "The Princess," and other well-known poems. The Laureateship open, and it was conferred on Tennyson. His chief works after winning this distinction were the "Idylls of the Kings," "Maud," and his dramas, but he continued to publish poetry until his death.

A few years before his death he accepted a peerage from Queen Victoria, who regarded him as a personal friend. The publication of many new editions in recent years gives evidence of the fact that Tennyson's poetry has been exceptionally and enduringly popular, and it bids fair to remain so, being in this respect a contrast with the work of some of his contemporaries, especially the most eminent of them, Robert Browning.

IS ASKED TO PAY HUSBAND'S BILLS

Mrs. Harriet Singer Has Received a Letter from Mrs. William Hardy of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Mrs. Harriet Singer, whose husband, C. J. Singer, was drowned near Cedar Rapids, Ia., on Monday, has received a letter from a Mrs. William Hardy of that city, with whom he had been boarding, wherein it is stated that he owed a $16 board bill and had borrowed $18 from the writer. It is also intimated that posing as an unmarried man, Singer had been attentive to Mrs. Hardy's daughter and that the latter had fallen in love with him. Mrs. Singer is asked to make good the loan and board bill, but does not feel that she is able or obliged to do this. She and her husband had lived apart for two years past, but had corresponded regularly during the intervening time on account of their infant daughter. The Cedar Rapids authorities will be allowed to dispose of the remains as they see fit.

LITTLE PEOPLE ENJOYED THE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Oliven Yesterday in Honor of Miss Margaret Birmingham's Twelfth Anniversary.

At the home of her parents, 543 South Jackson street, yesterday afternoon, Miss Margaret Birmingham celebrated her twelfth birthday anniversary in company with a number of her playmates. In the games which formed a part of the entertainment prizes were won by Mary Sheridan, Galatia Drow, and Alice Birmingham, and delicious refreshments were served during the progress of the festivities. Before departing the guests presented their hostess with many pretty birthday tokens. Besides those already mentioned, there were present: Nellie, Marie, and Frances Gillespie, Mary Connors, Marjorie Boylan, Stella Kelly, Ethel Hahr, Mary Klein, Gertrude McCaffery, Mary Cronin, Margaret Dolanay, Hazel Murray, Kathryn Sheridan, and Hazel Kennedy.

BUT FIFTEEN MEN ARE SENT UP FROM CHICAGO

Railroad Company Expects Considerable Trouble in Securing Help.

Forty men were expected to arrive from Chicago last night to take the places of men who walked out last Monday, refusing to continue work on the Janesville Cut-off until they had been paid, but instead of forty, the company was able to send only fifteen. Of the seventy who walked out but promised to resume work when the company granted their demands, only four kept their word. At present, counting those who did not strike, those who returned, and those who arrived last night, there are about fifty men working today. L. L. Harbison of the Western Boarding and Supply company, stated this morning that by Monday the company will have over a hundred men on the job.

Music will be furnished by a Beloit band and the festivities will conclude with a big dance in the evening.

BROKE INTO HOUSE AND STOLE Eatables

Home of Mrs. Green on Linden Ave. Entered and Food Taken From the Cellar.

Petty larceny, supposed to be the work of members of the crew which came here to work for the North-Western road, and afterward struck, was perpetrated at the home of Mrs. Ann Green, Linden avenue, Wednesday night. Mrs. Green was out of town at the time, but her son, Harry Green, who is employed by Charles L. Snyder as a plumber's helper, was staying at home, getting his own meals. To save time and trouble his mother had cooked and baked a supply of eatables that would last him until her return. Wednesday night while he was down town somebody broke into the cellar and stole all of the supplies. The theft was not noticed until yesterday morning, when young Green went to prepare his breakfast and found that if he was to eat anything that morning he would have to get it down town. Nothing besides the eatables was disturbed except that the marauders cut the telephone wires.

EDWARD A. YUENGST DIED THIS MORNING

Man Found Unconscious Under a North-Western Culvert Dies of His Injuries.

Without ever regaining consciousness Edward A. Yuengst, who was found with his back broken and his jaw dislocated under a North-Western railroad culvert on the Mole farm, died at Mercy hospital shortly after one this morning. Careful investigation of the conditions surrounding Yuengst's death by Chief of Police Appleby and the District attorney revealed the possibility of any foul play and it is thought that the man received his injuries by falling from the culvert to the ground. He did not regain consciousness and died surrounded by all his immediate relatives.

Mr. Yuengst was forty-nine years of age and leaves to mourn his loss: a father, who lives at Union, Illinois; two brothers, Joseph and Fred, of this city; and four sisters, Mrs. Alfred Malbon and Mrs. Edward Badger of this city, Mrs. Maurice Ross of Chicago and Mrs. Hiram Santos of Rockford.

Mrs. C. I. Ormsbee

The last and services over the remains of the late Mrs. C. I. Ormsbee were held this morning at 10:30 from the home of Mrs. H. J. Hullock, South Main street. Rev. Gidney of North Johnston conducted the services, which were attended by a host of sorrowing friends and relatives, both from this city and from her old home in the town of Lima. The remains were taken to North Johnston for interment in the cemetery there. Fred Malley, Charles Brockhaus, Frank Parker, Charles Gletter, Levi Case and C. F. Carr were the pallbearers.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Aug. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shaw are spending a few days in Beloit and Janesville with relatives and friends.

The Clarence school picnic reunion was to be held the second Tuesday of August, but has been postponed. The date will be announced later.

I Am The Chiropractor

The man who makes good;
the man who knows a way to make sick folks well...

I want to have a five-minute talk with every sick man or woman who reads this newspaper.

I make no charge for consultation, and, if I am, able to convince you that my Chiropractic adjustments will make you well the cost will be so small as to seem absurd when measured by the charges of the "Doctors."

CHIROPRACTIC SCIENCE, the method through which I make sick people well completely REMOVES all traces of THE CAUSE of Disease from the system. Nearly 1,000 people in this vicinity have proved this. I want you, sick man or woman, no matter how hopeless you may feel, to come to me before you give up entirely. I can show you how to be perfectly well.

NO MEDICINE--NO DRUGS--NO CUTTING--NO MIND HEALING--READ THE TESTIMONY OF ONE WHO KNOWS BY EXPERIENCE--

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—

I have been for several years past subject to severe attacks of what the medical doctors termed Chronic Inflammation of the Bladder, during which attacks I suffered great pain. On or about January first of this year I had an unusually severe attack and was treated unsuccessfully by local physicians and by a Chicago Specialist. I was in such shape after the treatment by the specialist that on my return home my face became partially paralyzed and my left eye badly affected.

I was nearly blind and water constantly streamed from both eyes, was weak, sick and discouraged. As a last resort I groped my way to the office of RAYMOND PUDDICOMBE, Chiropractor, and subjected myself to the Chiropractic Adjustments. After the first adjustment I felt much better. My eyes improved till I have no further sign of trouble, my paralyzed face has resumed its natural condition; where I was getting up every hour of the night to urinate I am now getting up but once and my Kidney and Bladder trouble seems to be removed. I am feeling better than for years and am confident that the Chiropractic Adjustments have done more for me in four weeks than medicine and specialists would ever do. In fact, it seems that Chiropractic as compared with medical treatment is the difference between success and failure. I cannot too highly recommend the Chiropractor, who, while making no vain boasts or absurd claims to being a healer, or performing miraculously cures, has by the simple Chiropractic Adjustment so placed my nervous system, in condition that I am on the way to perfect health.

3 Newman Bros. Pianos--style 20
3 Scholarships in Janesville Business College
3 Diamond Rings
3 Solid Gold Watches

Winners of these Practical Prizes will be Determined September 4th, 1909

Newman Bros. Piano

has been sold by H. F. Nott, Janesville, for many years. There are over 250 in use in this city and surrounding territory alone and these pianos are to be found in the homes of not only the wealthy class of people but also in the homes of the most critical of musicians.

The Newman Bros.

has invariably been selected on account of purity of tone, perfect action, and unsurpassable durability.  NEWMAN BROS. PIANOS sold over fifteen years ago are still in perfect condition and still good for a number of years. It is our opinion, backed by years of actual experience and reinforced by the opinions of leading musicians and tuners, that the NEWMAN BROS. is one of the most durable and satisfactory pianos that can be found in either this country or Europe.

AFTER DUE CONSIDERATION

The Gazette decided to use the Newman Piano, when this great Contest was inaugurated, in preference to all other makes. The Newman Pianos to be given away absolutely free September 4, 1909, are Style 20, mahogany or oak finish. They are beauties and are now on display at the salesrooms of H. F. Nott and C. S. Putnam, China and Furniture. The Gazette invites all contestants and others interested to call and inspect them, and see that they are just as advertised.

A Business Education

From a Business College point of view a business education means a course of study and training that fits young men and women for commercial pursuits. In this age of sharp competition there is little chance for the young person who faces the world without the knowledge and skill that comes from special training. A business education furnishes the preparatory training for the bookkeeper, the clerk and office assistants in all lines of business, and qualifies its graduates to enter at once into profitable employment. The scholarship feature of this great contest is being as hotly contested for as any prize offered, and THE GAZETTE takes a great pleasure in presenting three of these valuable scholarships as prizes.

Diamonds and Watches at Olin & Olson

The three Elegant Diamond Rings which have been purchased of Olin & Olson of this city, are of such value that they are to be given as second prizes. These diamonds are perfect stones, in Tiffany mountings, and the young ladies receiving them will be more than repaid for the effort they have put forth.

The Janesville Business College

Where the winners of the three combined courses scholarships will receive their training, is prepared to meet every reasonable requirement of those who seek a commercial education. This institution qualifies young men and women for desirable office positions and brings them face to face with employers of such service. The college ranks among the best and a capable corps of teachers is employed. Not a more practical prize could be given, and the winners will be perfectly satisfied with the instruction they will receive. Upon completion of the course a solid foundation for a business career has been gained.

Diamonds and Watches at Olin & Olson

The three Beautiful Solid Gold Watches are the best that can be purchased in this city. They are seventeen jewel Elgin movement, in highly engraved, solid gold cases. These watches are to be given as fourth prizes. It is sufficient to say that each watch is accompanied by the guarantees of Olin & Olson, of whom they were purchased.

These Valuable Prizes Are Now On Display

Taft's Own Views

With the passage of the Payne tariff bill by the United States Senate yesterday afternoon and its signature by President Taft, the long discussion relative to the revision downward of the tariff has become a thing of the past and the new law is effective. After signing the measure President Taft made the following statement relative to the new law which is well worth considering and reading carefully:

"I have signed the Payne tariff bill because I believe it to be the result of sincere effort on the part of the republican party to make a downward revision and to comply with the promises of the platform as they have been generally understood and as I interpreted them in the campaign before election.

"This is not a perfect tariff bill, nor a complete compliance with the promises made strictly interpreted, but a fulfillment free from criticism in respect to a subject matter involving many schedules and thousands of articles could not be expected. It affords to say that except with regard to whisky, liquor, and wines, and in regard to silks and as to some high classes of cottons—all of which may be treated as luxuries and proper subjects of a revenue tariff—there have been few increases in rates.

"There have been a great number of real decreases in rates, and they constitute a sufficient amount to justify the statement that this bill is a substantial downward revision and a reduction of excessive rates.

"This is not a free trade bill. It was not intended to be. The republican party did not promise to make a free trade bill.

"It promised to make the rates protective, but to reduce them when they exceeded the difference between the cost of production abroad and here, making allowance for the greater normal profit on active investments here. I believe that while this excess has not been reduced in a number of cases, in a great majority, the rates are such as are necessary to protect American industries, but are low enough, in case of abnormal increase of demand and raising of prices, to permit the possibility of the importation of the foreign article and thus to prevent excessive prices.

"The power granted to the executive under the maximum and minimum clause may be exercised to secure the removal of obstacles which have been interposed by foreign governments in the way of undue and unfair discriminations against American merchandise and products.

"The Philippine tariff I have struggled to secure for ten years last past, and it gratifies me exceedingly by my signature to give it the effect of law. I am sure it will greatly increase the trade between the two countries, and it will do much to build up the Philippines in a healthful prosperity.

"The administrative clause of the bill and the customs court are admirably adapted to secure a more uniform and a more speedy final construction of the meaning of the law.

"The authority to the president to use agents to assist him in the application of the maximum and minimum section of the statute, and to enable officials to administer the law; gives a wide latitude for the acquisition, under circumstances favorable to its truth, of information in respect to the price and cost of production of goods at home and abroad which will throw much light on the operation of the present tariff and be of primary importance in the official collection of data upon which future executive action and executive recommendations may be based.

"The corporation tax is a just and equitable excise measure, which it is hoped will produce a sufficient amount to prevent a deficit and which incidentally will secure valuable statistics and information concerning the many corporations of the country and will constitute an important step toward that degree of publicity and regulation which the tendency in corporate enterprises in the last twenty years has shown to be necessary."

In the face of this statement it will be hard for the seven republican senators, one of whom was Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, to explain to the voters of their states that they stand with President Taft in his efforts to secure good legislation and not with their supposed natural enemies, the Democrats.

CANNON'S DISCIPLINE

Among the Congressmen to feel the discipline of Speaker Cannon for their opposition to his re-election as Speaker of the House and the adoption of the rules which the majority of the republicans desired, is Congressman H. C. Cooper of the First Wisconsin district, the member in congress representing the voters of Rock county. Mr. Cooper has been chairman of the important committee on insular affairs since that committee was organized, but now steps down and out, his place going to Mr. Olmstead of Pennsylvania. Up to the naming of the committee heads it was thought that Mr. Cooper might be saved by his vote with the regular republicans for the tariff measure, which vote the Milwaukee Journal saw fit to criticize him for most heartily. However, Mr. Cannon's arm is long and his memory must also be good, for Mr. Cooper loses his important place in congress and goes on other committees merely as a lay member.

Bryan is surprised that Taft has so much power that he can compel legislation whenever he wishes and for whatever he wishes. Bryan is sure he can not and the people are certain he never will either.

Taft goes to Beverly, Mass., for the rest of the summer and now that city becomes the center of all observation and we shall read what the Tafts had for breakfast every day and how they dress.

Lincoln's face should be on a dollar or something bigger. There are plenty of penny-ante statesmen whose faces would not be out of place upon a penny.

Milwaukee, Home-Coming is bringing together the oldest citizens, all of whom remember when Adam was a little boy or the coldest day in the Thirties.

Chicago may face a street-car strike that will compel persons to exercise that have not been able to find time to walk to and from work for many years.

They say that Seneca Payne is to be the next Speaker of the House. If this is Uncle Joe may go back to his old job as guardian of the treasury.

Governor Johnson wants the west to throw off the yoke of the east, but he failed to consult Cannon and Aldrich about that important yoke.

Roosevelt says that Africa is to become the White Man's playground and in reply off starts a party of Chicago men to see if it is true.

Mexico finds earthquakes a bad substitute for the bumps, bumps, the chutes and other summer amusements.

Thaw still insists that he is sane and Jerome is positive that he is crazy and should go back to the asylum.

With the summer resort keeper it is now or never and the old sea serpent story is not needed to bring guests.

Sunny Jim Sherman has settled back into obscurity after figuring in one or two baseball and golf pictures.

Taft is going to visit Wisconsin in September, but he says nothing about stopping in Janesville on his trip.

Spain gladly yields the spotlight to Sweden and the Swedes do not appreciate the honor in the least.

Harvest hands are more popular in the wheat fields just now than any one else, including the President.

Chicago is having a hard time to find a man who will take the job of Chief of Police.

Cleveland is flatterring itself just now that it is a five-cent town.

O for an island, away in the sea, far from the bore in this land of the free! There I would live in a cave by the shore; never to be disturbed by the noise of the world, never to be disturbed by the noise of the world, never to be disturbed by the noise of the world.

A HOT DAY

WISH

Keep me awake, never an "extra" announcing a fake. I am so weary of Evelyn's glare, wearing short dresses and riding hood curls! Weary of Gingles who gingle in court, telling a story too fierce to report; tired of the ladies who, filled with remorse, mourn that they married, and ask for divorce; making their onths, with a courage sublime, that they were soiled only part of the time. I am so tired of these one-sided trades, where by the blooming American maid, loaded with wealth that their fathers amassed, marry cheap princes of passion. Alas for the daisy who married a lord! Duke are so cheap that they sell by the cord. I am so tired of the mills of divorce, tired of the evidence, world and course; marriage is now, in the eyes of the law, less of a bond than a fatter of straw. O for an hole in the sea, far away, where one may dodge all the "nows of the day!"

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE LURE OF FASHION.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever. There may be prettier worlds than this in which we live. However that may be, certainly the great artist has dressed this one in such robes of beauty as to make it a constant joy.

Woman instinctively loves beauty, and in her desire to be beautifully clad she is carrying out her natural longing for adornment.

A woman who is sloven is an abomination in the sight of gods and men. To be beautiful is not necessary to be ultra fashionable or extravagant. Some of the modern fashions are hideously effective in their disfigurement of natural beauty.

And it is a mistake to suppose that men, for instance, are attracted by the extreme display of modern styles. I noted the other day in a fashionable hotel the appearance of a young woman who was very simply though very neatly dressed, in quiet contrast with the elaborate toils of several dressers. And I noted approval in the eyes of the men.

In personal appearance, as in other things, excess is sin.

Fashion ruins its thousands and extravagance its tens of thousands.

Undue fondness for costly garments on the part of the wife has sent many a good man down the moral toboggan slide. The husband must compromise himself by vainly trying to cater to the fashionable caprices of wife or daughters.

Benedit Arnold ruined himself and nearly ruined his country for the sake of the family wardrobe.

And since and before Arnold's day other men have betrayed a trust from a similar cause.

Fashion and desire for embellishment have ruined women victims as well.

The extreme devotee kills herself by her slavish obedience to modes and conventionality.

And many a poor girl, noting how the gracefully gownned are applauded, comes to believe that dress, instead of character, is the supreme thing in social life.

She adopts the motto: Get beautiful things. Cut them honestly if you can, but get them.

The great trouble is in excess. So many women of a certain type seem to consider that life is a sort of dress parade—for exhibition purposes.

Glorious is that woman who has learned to esteem the rich graces of sweet womanhood above the tinsel of a Worth gown.

Wise is she who dresses neatly and as richly as she can well afford, but who cares more for the things of the mind and heart than for the things of the body.

A Recipe for Good Looks

The first "ingredient" in the recipe for good looks is pretty teeth.

Given a fine, good looking set of teeth, no man or woman need have any fear that he or she will be called anything but good looking.

Next to the eyes, the teeth are most in evidence.

Every word that is uttered shows the teeth; every smile shows the teeth; every time one takes a mouthful of food the teeth are in evidence, be they good, bad, or a mixture of both.

We put the question directly up to you:

Do you want to make a good impression?

Then have your teeth cared for by the Dentist.

I believe I am fitted by experience, equipment and ability to do well by you.

Let me care for your mouth.

RICHARD F. FINLEY
BEGINS AN ACTION AGAINST JAS. RYAN

Complaint Charges Embezzlement of $840.48—Bail Fixed at $2,000—Examination Tuesday.

James Ryan, senior member of the answer contracting firm of Ryan & Finley, appeared in municipal court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint, charging him with embezzlement of a certain portion of the firm's funds, which was sworn out by Richard F. Finley last evening. The specific charge on which this action is instituted relates to a certain draft for $340.48, drawn by the Ryan & Finley Co. of Chicago for the benefit of the co-partnership, dated July 1, 1909, and alleged to have been converted by the defendant to his own uses.

Mr. Ryan is represented by Attorney Thomas S. Nolan and J. J. Cunningham and the prosecution will be conducted by District Attorney J. L. Fisher. The examination was set for Tuesday morning, August 10, at ten o'clock and the bail fixed at $2,000.

Attorney Nolan asked for a reduction of the bail, declaring that the sum named was excessive in view of the fact that less than $1,000 was involved in the action, and also took occasion to say that if it were true, as reported, that three separate actions were to be commenced against his client, the whole proceeding savored of persecution rather than prosecution.

Judge Fife, in reply, said that the amount of bail was determined by the necessity of amply guaranteeing an appearance on the part of the defendant and not by the amount of money involved. He also stated that his intention on the part of the prosecution to bring three separate actions against Mr. Ryan. The request for a reduction of the bail was denied.

Negotiations for a settlement between the partners failed of adjustment owing to a refusal on each side to accept ultimatums offered by the other. Judging from the present outlook, it will require considerable litigation to adjust the differences in a manner satisfactory to all parties concerned.

The bonds were furnished this afternoon by Taylor Bros. and Harry Conwell.

BURNED TIMBERS OF OLD SHED CAUGHT FIRE AGAIN

Pile of Debris on Bleasdale Estate Started to Burn Again This Afternoon.

Fire broke out this afternoon, shortly after one o'clock, in some partially burned timbers which were piled to the south of the land belonging to the Bleasdale estate. The lumber was part of the old barn which had been stacked there after the fire department had pulled down what remained of the shed. The cause of the fire is unknown, possibly having been started by spontaneous combustion. One stream of water was thrown on the blaze, which was slight, and it was soon extinguished.

Many Members of Local Club Will Attend State Tournament in Milwaukee.

On Tuesday next the finals for the Morgan Cup will be played at the St. Louis Hotel, Milwaukee. Previous to that time, the tournament will be held at the time of the annual meeting of the Milwaukee Country Club, Milwaukee. Among the Janesville players who will be in Milwaukee for the games are A. P. Durham, Al. Schuller, Fred Schuller, Chester Moore, S. D. Tullman, Mark Bostwick, William Huger, Jr., H. L. McNamara, Wilson Lane, Howard Black, G. E. King and several others. This afternoon the regular Friday bridge games were held.

RETURN FROM CAMP
AFTER A FINE TIME

Y. M. C. A. Juniors And Intermediates Back Into Civilization Once More.

Tanned and unburned from spending ten days in camp at Lake Delavan, sixty members of the Y. M. C. A., including forty-eight Juniors and Intermediates, camp managers, leaders and helpers, returned this afternoon. All were pleased and happy and some carried with them trophies secured during their stay.

The "hoodoo" supposed to hover about the number thirteen seemed to have been declared off on this occasion, for although it was the thirteenth annual trip to the lake, it was one of the most successful camps held.

The boys and their sports were in charge of Physical Director Birch, who managed them so that every one of the boys had a grand time. In all kinds of games and sports there was the keenest rivalry, prizes and medals having been offered for those who were best. The business affairs of the camp were taken care of by Secretary J. C. Kline, while to Mr. and Mrs. L. Morse was given the task of feeding the hungry crew.

SHE THINKS IT A MIRACLE.

PEOPLE ARE GOING MANY MILES TO SEE.

So much talk is created by the Root Juice scientific and his new discovery that scores of people are going many miles to see and learn all they can about the new remedy that seems to be in a short while cure the very worst forms of rheumatism, stomach and kidney troubles and nervous weakness.

Mrs. E. G. Moore said: "I had just seven doctors treating me at different times for chronic stomach troubles and kidney weakness. I was reduced to skin and bones, and was so weak I couldn't feed myself when I commenced to take the wonderful Juice. After taking it a few days I was recovering flesh and strength with such rapidity I felt a miracle was being performed. A few bottles of the remedy completely cured me after all of the doctors failed to do any good; but I am not the only one, as many of my neighbors have been cured by the great medicine. It is truly a wonderful medicine. It seems to heal and invigorate every organ of the body."

Adv.

FOR AGED PEOPLE.

We unhesitatingly and strongly advise the use of Rexall Urinetics in preference to any other constipation treatment. We so well know their value that we offer to return every cent paid for them if they fail to give entire satisfaction. They are eaten like candy, are beneficial to the whole system, do not cause any inconvenience or griping, and positively relieve the evils of constipation. Two sizes, 10c, and 25c.

PEACE REIGNS AT BARCELONA. Spanish City Continues Calm After Bloody Riots Are Checked.

Cerbero, France, Aug. 6.—Barcelona continues calm. The electric and gas plants have not yet been repaired and the city is being lighted by searchlights from the warship in the harbor. It is officially announced that ten courts martial of persons charged with complicity in the riots at Barcelona have been held to date. Fifteen men were condemned to life imprisonment and others have been released from the Mount Juch fortress.

Among those still incarcerated in the fortress are 14 priests. Persons wounded in the fighting and who are in hospitals will be transferred to the fortress as soon as they are convalescent. The authorities deny that there have been any executions of the death sentence in Barcelona.

MINERS' OFFICIALS IN CLASH. Lewis or Feehan May Resign as Result of Charges.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The accusation made by Francis Feehan, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, that Thomas L. Lewis, national president of the organization, had a private agreement with a local coal company which made it easy for him to settle the recent trouble between the miners and the company, will likely result in the resignation of either of Mr. Lewis or Mr. Feehan from his presidency.

"If such a thing were true I would resign in 24 hours, and if it is not true Feehan should resign," said Mr. Lewis, when he heard the charge.

A committee from the miners' organization has been appointed to investigate the matter. The coal company denies the charge.

Decision Affects Indians. TODAY OPENS NEW FIELD TO GAZETTE CONTESTANTSPleasant Surprise Sprung—Contest Management Will Give Can-dates Extra Votes for New Subscribers—Chance of a Lifetime.Next Ten Days Will Prove Of The Most Exciting Periods of Event—Opportunity Knocks Out Once.Contestants—Just to add a little dash of excitement to this great contest, the management has decided to issue a special bulletin on all new subscribers turned into this office the next ten days.
This special offer affords each and every contestant the greatest chance to secure extra votes and we believe the winners of these prizes will attribute their success to this great special offer. Study it carefully and pitch right in with a firm determination to win out or give the one who does with the contest of her life. Nothing is ever gained by standing back and letting someone else pick up the prizes of life. Nothing like this offer will ever be given in Janesville again very probably, and the opportunity of winning such prizes should be grasped immediately and striven for earnestly.

SPECIAL OFFER.

Beginning tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and closing Tuesday, August 17, at 8 p. m., the management will give special ballots as follows:
To each and every contestant who turns in five 12-month new daily subscriptions, a special ballot of 25
votes will be given, besides the regular votes to be given, besides regular votes issued on subscriptions.
To each and every contestant who turns in five new 6-month new subscriptions, a special ballot of 10, 000 votes will be given, besides the regular votes issued on all subscriptions.This exceptional offer is good for ten days only, ending August 17, at 8 p. m., and is worthy of consideration.
Each and every contestant should not fail to take advantage of it to increase her reserve, as the special offer adds greatly to the number of votes given on a new subscription, and astonishing results can be gained in this short space of time.
Also this offer will not be repeated, there is your subscriptions as soon as you secure them, and the contest manager will issue you the regular ballot.A strict account will be kept of all new subscriptions turned in by each contestant, and the "special ballot" will be sent to all who are entitled to them at the end of the ten days.
The regular votes issued on subscriptions can be held in reserve, or voted as in the past.No Time Like the Present.
Do not let the days slip by and think you will get a big bunch of subscriptions the last week, but hustle today—right now—and see how many votes you can get.Besides, candidates should remember a race is never finished until the goal is reached. All of the contestants are starting to accumulate a reserve for the last day, September 4th. This contest is fully under way now, but not enough time has elapsed for any one candidate to take a very big lead.
This may not occur to you, but even if one contestant does get a few thousand votes in the lead of her competitors in a certain district, it must not be taken for granted that the race is won, and perhaps the young ladies, who are apparently reposing in quiet near the bottom will be the ones to creep up unawares and carry off the prize. Such things have been done, and many a race has been lost by over-confidence.Don't let rumors influence you one way or the other. These rumors are false as the secrets of this contest are not shared with outsiders, and the reporters are therefore started in hopes that the young ladies of the district will become discouraged and stop their efforts. Such rumors should only be the goal to better things.A man deaf, dumb and blind would be aware of the fact that "The Gazette's" contest is a big hit in Janesville and adjacent territory. "How can they afford to do it?" This is the expression heard daily about the contest. The undertaking is, indeed, quite large, and involves more work and "trouble" than most people would suppose.It is true that the most popular young ladies are entered in the race and everyone in the territory combined desires to have a finger in the pie of helping these young ladies win the prizes they seek. This is best evidenced by the large number of votes received by The Gazette which come from every nook and corner of Janesville and the surrounding territory.Few Reminders Bring the Time for closing this great voting contest nearer. This also makes more important the energetic use of every day. Much can be accomplished by every candidate in the remaining weeks. No candidate should be discouraged, for efforts put forth in the right way can change the whole aspect of the contest.The nomination blank will be withdrawn August 9th. Act quickly if you desire to enter this popular contest. It is possible even now for a new contestant to enter the contest and win one of the prizes, diamond rings, necklaces or gold watches.Subscription Books.
Contestants and their friends are privileged to accept payments on subscriptions and in order that they may receive for each payment we will provide them with a receipt book upon request.Open Evenings.
For the benefit of those who cannot call during business hours this office and contest department will be open every evening until 8 o'clock.

CHAPTER XXII.

SEVERAL PHILOSOPHERS.

THE four burly men sat down upon the chests, Von Blitz alone being visible to the watchers. They were fagged to the last extreme.

"Die is der last," panted Von Blitz, blowing hard and stretching his big arms. "I fix him," he growled. "This time will come, by him! I let him know he can't take my rives any nit him. Der dog! I fix him some day purdy soon. Und dem tam vinnens! Der run away mit him, eh? Ach, Gott, if I could only put my hands by der necks yet!"

"Vat for you fret, Jacob?" growled one of the Boers. "You couldn't take those vinnens back by Europe mit you. I tink you got good luck by losing dem. Allder Chase can't take dem back needer. Don't fret."

"Vell," said Von Blitz, arising, "come on, boys. Dis is der last of dem. Don't blow der tam t'm up. Grab hold der, Joost. Up mit it, Jan. Vat? Not?"

"Gott in himmel, Jacob, vat a minute! My back is broke!" protested Joost stubbornly. Von Blitz swore steadily for a minute, but could not move the impassive Boers.

"Vat for you tink I vant you in on dis, you vinn? To set around und dream? Nobody else knows about dis treasure, und ve got it all for ourselves—ve four and no more, und you say, 'Vat's der hurry?' It's all ours. Ve divide it oop in der cave mit all der money ve got from der bank. Vat? Yes? Den, ven der time comes, ve send it all by Australia und no von is der vicer. Der natives von't know, und der white peebles von't be alive to care about it."

"I don't like dot scheme to rob der bank," growled Jan. "If der peebles get on to us, dey would cut us to pieces."

"But dey von't get on to us, you fool. Dey wouldn't take it demselves if it was handed to dem. Dey're too honest—yes. Vell, don't dey say you're honest too? Vell, vat more you vant? Dey don't know how much money und rubles dere is in der bank. Ve von't take all of it—und dey von't know der difference. Ve burn der books. Dis is all. Ve got in by der bank tonight, boys."

"I don't like it," said Joost. "Id's stealing from our friends, Jacob. Besides, if der oder boys should go before der government mit der story, vat den?"

"Der oder boys vill never get der chance, boys. Dey vill die mit der plague—im, but Sarel Dora von't be no oder boys. Insula says it must be so. Ve could vat, boys. It vill be years before der business is settled. Ve must get vat ve can now und vat for der decision afterwards. Brodney has wrote to Insula, saying dat dot scheme vill be to stay here vunder ve difference. Ve burn der books. Dis is all. Ve got in by der bank tonight, boys."

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read no much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women. I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOGDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs. Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

vant him or not. He says Chase is a goat man. By tam, it makes me cry to tink of vot he has done by me—dot goat man!"

To the amazement of all the burly Germans began to blubber.

"Come on, Jacob," said Jan gruffly. "You Blitz shook his fist at the door across the chamber and thundered his final imaledictions."

"Sir John says in der letter to Mla-der Chase dere is a movements on foot in London to settle der content out of court," volunteered Joost.

"Sure, but he also say dat ve all may die mit old ago before it is over yet."

"Don't forget der plague!" said Jan. They growled mightily as they lifted the heavy chests to their shoulders and started for the door.

"Close der door, Jan," commanded Von Blitz from the passage. "Ve vill light der fuse von ve hut got beyond der first bend. Vat? Look! By tam, von of you swine has broke der fuse. Valt! Ve vill fix him now."

The door was closed behind them, but the listeners could hear them republishing the damage that Selim had done to the fuse.

Led by Selim, the four made a rush for the door leading into the chateau. They threw it open and passed through, flying as if for their lives. No one could tell how soon an explosion might bring disaster to the region; they put distance between them and the powder keg. Selim paused long enough to drop the bolts and turn the great key with the lever. At the second turn in the narrow corridor he overtook Chase and the scurrying women.

"Is there nothing to be done?" cried the princess. "Can we not prevent the explosion? They will cut off our means of escape in that!"

"I know too much about gunpowder, princess," said Chase dryly, "to fool with it. It's like a mule. It kicks hard. God, it was hard to stand there and hear those brutes planning it all and not be able to stop them!"

The princess was once more at his side. He had clasped her arm to lead her securely in the wake of Neenah's electric lantern. She came to a sudden stop.

"And pray, Mr. Chase," she said sharply, as if the thought occurred to her for the first time, "why didn't you stop them? You had the advantage. You and Selim could have surprised them—you could have taken them without a struggle."

He laughed softly, deprecatingly, not a little impressed by the justice of her criticism.

"No doubt you consider me a coward," he said ruefully.

"You know that I do not," she protested. "I—I can't understand your motive; that is all."

"You forget that I am the representative of these very men. I am the trusted agent of Sir John Brodney, who has refused to supplant me with another. I can't very well represent Sir John and at the same time make prisoners or corpses of his clients, even though I am being shielded by their legal fees. I'll not have Von Blitz saying, even to himself, that I have not only stolen his wives, but have also cut him into the hands of his Philistines. It may sound grotesque to you, but I think that Lord Deppingham and Mr. Brodney will understand my attitude."

"But Von Blitz has sworn to kill you," she expostulated, with some heat. "You are wasting your integrity. I must say, Mr. Chase."

"Would you have me shoot him from ambush?" he demanded.

"Not at all. You could have taken him captive and held him safe until the time comes for you to leave the island."

"It would not have been my captive in any event. I could do no more than deliver him into the hands of his enemies. Would that be fair?"

"But he is a thief!"

"No more so than Taswell Skaggs and John Wyckholme, who unquestionably cheated the natives out of the very treasure we have seen carried away. I am not a constable nor a thief catcher. I am a soldier of the defense, not an officer of the crown, at this stage of the game. Today I shall continue to send word to Insula that Von Blitz has stolen the treasure chests. Mr. Von Blitz will have a sad time explaining this little defection to his friends. We must not overlook the fact that Lady Deppingham and Robert Browne are quite willing to take everything from the islanders. Everything that Taswell Skaggs and John Wyckholme possessed in this island belongs to them under the terms of the will."

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott For the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D., Aug. 8th, 1909.)

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Paul's Instruction to the Thessalonians. 1 Thessa. v:12-24.

Golden Text.—See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good. 1 Thessa. v:15.

Verses 12-15.—What is the dominant note to-day between officials of the church and the pastor, is it official and business, or is it spiritual, that of felt tender love and warm esteem? Do ministers as a class "labor" as hard, and suffer as their Master did, and thus compel the tender love and esteem of the church?

Does the average minister or not, naturally "labor" as hard as the average mechanic, farmer, business or professional man, and practice as much self denial as these?

What is generally the real character of those who will not support the church because they do not like the minister?

What is the only way by which to have "peace" among brethren in a church or in a community?

Verses 14.—If you know anything against a fellow Christian what is the right thing to do, (1) say nothing about it; (2) talk about it to others; (3) correct him in the presence of others, or (4) see him alone and in love tell him what you have to say?

Jesus went about lovingly helping people, in their bodies, their souls, and circumstances; if you and I are not doing that, have we a right to conclude that we are not followers of Jesus?

Is it your duty, as a Christian, to take pains to "comfort" everybody with whom you come in contact, and if you are not doing, what is the effect upon your life?

Verses 15.—If my neighbor sets his dog on my sheep, pulls down my fences in the night, shoots my chickens when one gets into his yard, is constantly slandering me and my family, and will not pay me a long standing just debt, what would Jesus do if he were I? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 16.—It is easy, Paul, for you to say, "Rejoice evermore," but is it so easy for ordinary mortals, and if so, how?

Verses 17.—If a man is really in love with God and his fellows, does he not necessarily pray all the time, either consciously or unconsciously?

Verses 18.—Are we to be thankful alike for pain and pleasure, for loss and gain, for enemies and friends, if we are "in Christ Jesus?"

Is it not an actual fact, based on the truest philosophy, that every sort of experience, which comes to a true man, is in the highest possible sense, for his good?

In the light of eternal existence, are there any such things as accident, calamity, misfortune, or even regrettable circumstances, in the life of a man of God?

Verses 19.—Can any man retain the peace of God, who is not absolutely obedient to the leadings of God's Holy Spirit?

Verses 20.—Prophesying here means preaching, is there any sign in these days that it is being despised?

Why should a love for the preaching of the gospel be cultivated?

Verses 21.—Why should we not as Christians encourage the most absolute free thought, the most critical research, and welcome the teaching of true science?

Can the real truth ever be a hurt to a true man, and is not such a man as glad to change his opinion, when he finds he is wrong, as to change a worn-out garment for a new one?

Verses 22.—If we desire the right only, and are obedient to God's spirit, need we ever fear even the "appearance of evil?"

Verses 23-24.—Does God mean his children to live "blameless" lives, and is the twenty-fourth verse not a promise that God will give the power to us?

DROWN AT CHURCH PICNIC.

Four Perish and 16 Are Saved When Launch Sinks.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—Two drowned bodies are lying at the Canton police station and two others at the bottom of the Patuxent river, while 16 persons, who were their companions are alive and thankful that they were not also drowned, when a gasoline launch in which they all were, was wrecked.

The drowned were: Mrs. Katherine E. Brown, Marie Hawes, Willard Leach, Frank Pryor.

Pryor was acting as engineer of the launch. The others were attending the annual picnic of the Huntington Avenue Baptist church Sunday school, which was being held at a shore resort a few miles east of this city on the Patuxent. Twenty persons had entered the launch for a short trip on the river. The craft had reached a point about a hundred yards from shore when it struck some piling and its occupants were thrown into the water.

Iowa Banker and Wife Victims in Indiana Accident.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cravens of Spring Lake, Ia., were instantly killed as the result of a collision between their touring car and the Marion Flyer, a limited traction car, at Stars Crossing, one mile north of Alexandria, Ind. Mr. Cravens' head was almost severed from the body and Mrs. Cravens' body was also badly mangled.

Mr. Cravens was president of the First National bank at Spring Lake. He has a cousin in Indianapolis and it is thought he was on the way to that city when killed.

Everything Provided For.

"Well, this ends my commercial career," said the grocery drummer as he entered the smoking-room of the hotel and threw his order-book on the table. "I got a partnership in the house for being good!" was asked by one of the loungers.

"Better than that."

"What's he bought the whole thing out?"

"I've bought a half-interest in an aeroplane and am going into the flying business. New York to Chicago or St. Louis in six hours, you know. Passengers and goods transported for one-half. Am going to write a letter to the Mlkedon this evening, calling him an old barbarian and stirring him up to declare war against the United States. Then I'll burn for dynamite and the destruction of his whole fleet. Men-of-war destroyed with promptness and despatch for a hundred dollars each. Forts destroyed day or night for the trifling sum of $50 apiece. Cities shaken up at your own price. Oh, I've struck it this time for sure."

"That, my dear man, have you taken the wind into account?" was seriously asked.

"Certainly—certainly."

"You can't go against the wind with one of those things, you know."

"No, of course not; but everything has been provided for."

"That is the saddest thing of all. We have only to build a fence a thousand feet high around the United States and the wind is shut off, and there you are!"

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WHY DON'T you begin today and always say them?—those kind, little words of praise or appreciation that you quite frequently think but very seldom get round to saying.

Sometimes you may be heartily sorry that you didn't, but you never will be sorry that you did.

I had a friend who was continually offering me pills with this advice, "They can't hurt you and they may help you."

That's the way with appreciation—it can't hurt anyone and it may help someone.

The other day I heard a woman say to a clerk who had waited on her very attentively, advising and suggesting and bringing out new garments tirelessly, and had finally sold her a gown:

"I wouldn't have bought that if you hadn't been such a thorough, good saleswoman. I want to congratulate you on your ability."

The girl's pale, tired face flushed into an astonishing prettiness and I could actually see the tears gather in her eyes.

"Thank you," was all she said, but she LOOKED enough to make me take the resolution to make some one else feel that way.

No gift ever grows so tremendously in its transit from giver to receiver as a word of appreciation.

It is such a very little thing from the standpoint of the one who gives it, and such a tremendously big one from the standpoint of the one who receives it.

Haven't you sometimes had for a whole day a warm, glowy feeling in your heart simply because someone said some little word of appreciation and praise?

When anyone writes to me and says, "You have helped me by your article on affluence," "I enjoyed what you said about vacations," I am happy for days.

Quite frequently it is the fear of being thought eccentric that prevents people from going out of their way to say kindly things.

I followed out the resolution I had formed when I heard Chat shop girl's "Thank you," by telling the little newsboy who gave me an extra good shine that I could see my face in his shoes, and he had made them a work of art and I should come to him as often as I could.

When we got outside the shoe parlor, my companion said distastefully, "What a queer way to talk to a bootblack."

Yes, kindness frequently is eccentric. But why not make it less so?

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 6, 1869.—Baseball Match.—A match in progress this afternoon between the Athletics of Whitewater and the Mutuals of this city.

Popular.—The Dots Manufacturing company in addition to its other work is turning out weekly 180 of the Dots Washing Machines. The popularity of this article seems to be increasing and the demand growing. In our recent trip westward we saw it for sale in the Salt Lake valley.

An Attractive Entertainment.—Our citizens who purchase tickets to the ball concert of the Lower City band can well rest assured that they will not alone do a good thing, but they will hear some fine music. Among other or attractions will be a bass solo from Mr. P. Miles, a musical composer of Chicago, who is now in attendance on the Normal Musical Academy. He has a fine voice and those who delight in good vocal music will be pleased with this feature of the entertainment.

NEARLY SEVERED WIFE'S HEAD.
After Killing Woman Michigan Man Ends Own Life.

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 6.—Joseph Houghton, aged 38, murdered his wife, aged 38, and then killed himself with a razor. The couple formerly resided on a farm at Dodgeville, near Houghton, but had been separated since December.

When Houghton returned to the farm a quarrel followed and Houghton drew a razor, and nearly severed his wife's head. He ran into a field and cut his own throat.

VETERAN REINSMAN HURT.

Ed Geers Thrown Over Fence When Mare Bolts Track.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6.—Ed F. Geers, the widely known driver had a wonderful escape from serious accident at the Grand Circuit races, when he was thrown over the fence during the first heat of the $5,000 pacing event.

Geers was driving Annabelle Lee, and led to the half, soon after which the mare broke. He took her to the outside to straighten her but a line snapped and Annabelle Lee swerved, then plunged through a gap in the fence. The sulky was demolished and Geers struck on the turf, which saved him, perhaps, from fatal injuries.

No bones were broken, but one ankle is badly sprained. In spite of this the veteran thinks he will be driving at Cleveland next week.

Navy to Give Up Negro Dozer.
Washington, Aug. 6.—David Williams, the negro mess attendant on the battleship Vermont, will be surrendered by the navy to the Massachusetts state authorities. They charge him with manslaughter as the result of the death of Mess Attendant Foster, following a boxing bout on board the Vermont.

Physician Slays Car Conductor.
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 6.—Dr. Nelson B. Ross, a physician of this city, shot and killed Daniel Linder, conductor of an interurban car, following a quarrel over payment of fare. Ross says he shot in self-defense.

Father and Son Drowned.
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 6.—George Hoad, aged 66 years, and his son Fred, aged 38, were drowned in Lake Minnetonka, a short distance from this city.

More Blame for Wife.
You seldom see a man so honest that he says to his wife: "Where did I leave my hat?" He usually says: "Where did you put it?"

Goblets of Ice.

Goblets made of ice for use in hot weather originated in Holland, where they are widely used. This novelty has been introduced in the United States and is used at a number of soda fountains in the larger cities in the eastern states. After removal from the molds the goblet is placed in a sheath of parchment paper and kept in cold storage. Of course, it can be used but once and is then thrown away.—Soda Fountain Magazine.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By Dr. T. J. ALLEN

DEVELOPING THE TEETH.

Dry food is preferable to mush or other soft food, because it induces natural flow of saliva and natural chewing. The use of salt, pepper and other excitants to stimulate taste is unnatural and injurious; one of the causes of the development of unnatural appetite and hurried eating. When real hunger exists, which comes naturally when the body needs nourishment, hard and dry food, like nuts or dry bread will induce a copious flow of saliva and a good appetite. A soldier can enjoy even "hard tack" after a good march. Especially necessary is it that children, after teething, should have some hard food to eat every day. Teeth were made by chewing and they can be kept only by chewing hard food. Every dog connoisseur knows that a dog must have an occasional bone, not merely because his teeth must have work to save them, but because he is the better otherwise for chewing. And the same is true of man, as can be easily proved by test.

One Killed; Sixty Injured.
Chicago, Aug. 6.—Otto Best, conductor of an electric car, was killed and 60 persons injured when a Pennsylvania railroad train struck the car at One Hundred and Third street Indianapolis avenue last night. Several of the injured are not expected to recover.

Paper Tradesmen Open Convention.
Boston, Aug. 6.—The National Paper Trade association of the United States opened its fourth annual mid-summer meeting in this city.
